

הסתדרות הרבנים דאמריקה
THE RABBINICAL COUNCIL OF AMERICA

CONSTITUTION
As amended, November, 2014

Article I – Name

The name of this organization shall be the Rabbinical Council of America. The equivalent Hebrew name shall be הסתדרות הרבנים דאמריקה (Histadrut HaRabbanim D'America).

Article II - Purposes

Section 1

The purpose and objectives of the Rabbinical Council of America shall be:

1. To advocate, teach and promote the practice and study of Orthodox Judaism and to actively assist and encourage all efforts by groups and individuals with the House of Israel in that direction.
2. To advance the cause of continued Torah scholarship with the ranks of its membership.
3. To defend the honor of the Torah, to champion the rights and the dignity of the Jewish people everywhere and to help build and strengthen the religious and general welfare of the State of Israel.
4. To be ever on guard against any distortion or misinterpretation of Torah-true Judaism by individuals or groups within and without the House of Israel and to clarify through the written and spoken word the true teachings of the Torah.
5. To serve as a unifying force among Orthodox rabbis and roshei yeshiva in order that there be an authoritative voice expressing the Torah view on all questions of proper interest to the American Jew.
6. To encourage the forces of freedom and justice as expounded in the Torah and thereby help the continuity of the basic American institutions of equal liberty and justice for all.
7. To help promote the economic welfare and security of the Rabbi through the rights of tenure, health insurance and old-age retirement arrangements.

8. To establish the Rabbi as the religious authority of his community or synagogue and to rally to his defense whenever, by virtue of the execution of his proper duties, his position or authority should be challenged.
9. To help unite the Orthodox American synagogues into an effective organization for the Jewish laity; to work with and give religious direction to our recognized synagogue body, the Union of Orthodox Jewish Congregations of America, in the building and strengthening of Judaism on the American scene.
10. To promote religious instruction for adults and aid in the development of effective instruments for its implementation.

Article III - Membership

Section 1

Any person whose conduct is in keeping with the standards of Orthodox Judaism and upon whom smicha has been properly conferred by a recognized yeshiva or authority and who is actively engaged in the rabbinate or in an allied field, and who desires to aid in furthering the purpose and program of the Rabbinical Council of America shall be eligible for membership in the Rabbinical Council of America.

Affiliate membership shall be open to rabbis who qualify for membership except that they are not actively engaged in the rabbinate or an allied field. The procedures for admission to this category of membership shall be identical with those for all other members. Rabbis admitted to affiliate membership shall be governed by all the regulations of the Rabbinical Council of America, receive all membership benefits and attend all conventions and conferences except that they shall not be entitled to attend Executive meetings nor vote on any issue nor hold any office.

Upon the recommendation of the Executive Committee, honorary membership to recognized outstanding rabbinic personages may be conferred by the Rabbinical Council at its annual Convention.

Section 2

Candidates for membership shall apply in writing, and when recommended by the Membership Committee and approved by the Executive Committee, shall be granted membership in the Rabbinical Council of America.

Section 3

The Executive Committee may prescribe additional qualifications, and shall have the power to enact further rules to govern the applications of candidates for membership.

The Executive Committee shall have the power to request the resignation of any member who ceases to be engaged in the active rabbinate or an allied field.

Section 4

The Executive Committee shall have the power by a vote of two-thirds of the members present and voting to expel or suspend from membership or impose such other discipline and penalty upon a member as it may deem appropriate, provided that

1. Except as otherwise provided in Section 2 of Article IV, to be liable to expulsion or suspension, the member shall be charged with having committed an act of a public or private nature unbecoming to a rabbi, or of having acted in a manner detrimental to the best interests of the Rabbinical Council of America.

2. Such charges shall be submitted in writing to the Executive Committee which shall, if it determines that such charges have sufficient basis, refer the charges to the Beth Din HaKovod. Complaints which are exclusively personal and in no way involve the business or the affairs of the Rabbinical Council of America may be sent directly to the Beth Din HaKovod by one member against another. The Beth Din HaKovod may act as a Beth Din to adjudicate the dispute. This, however, shall not limit either member from requesting a Zablo, provided that all of the members of the Beth Din selected shall be members of the Rabbinical Council of America.

3. The member against whom the charges are brought shall be notified of the charges and given ample opportunity to state his case, which shall be recorded in writing. The identities of any complainant and any alleged victim shall remain confidential throughout the investigative and fact finding processes and shall be made known, when necessary, only to those responsible for investigating the allegations, the members of the FFT and VHT. If it is deemed necessary by the VHT to reveal the names of any complainant or any alleged victim to the accused rabbi, permission to reveal such identities must be obtained in writing from each complainant or alleged victim by the head of the VHT.

4. The Beth Din HaKovod shall conduct any hearings or investigations it deems appropriate.

5. The Beth Din HaKovod shall recommend to the Executive Committee the disciplinary action, if any, to be taken on the charges.

6. Despite the conditions set forth in this section, any accusation against a member regarding any form of sexual activity or sexualized contact with any person to whom the member is not married or with any minor; lewd behavior; the exploitation of the rabbinic position for the purpose of gaining sexual gratification or sexual favors, the matter shall be referred by the Executive Vice President to the Vaad HaTzedek, according to the policies and procedures that will be adopted from time to time by the Executive Committee. The jurisdiction of the Vaad HaTzedek, includes, but is not limited to, the behaviors enumerated in this paragraph.

7. The Vaad HaTzedek shall determine the disciplinary action, if any, to be taken on the charges. Such action, including expulsion or suspension shall be effected immediately by the decision of the Vaad HaTzedek.

Section 5

Whenever proceedings under this article shall be commenced and the member against whom such proceedings have been instituted shall submit his resignation as a member of the Rabbinical Council of America, the proceedings may, in the discretion of the Executive Committee, be continued or terminated and if continued the Executive Committee shall proceed to a final determination of the issue and place upon the record its findings, conclusions and recommendations.

Article IV - Dues

Section 1

The Executive Committee shall fix the dues for membership and may establish a scale of dues which is related to the income or salary of the member. The said schedule of dues shall be announced and take effect at the annual Convention.

Section 2

Any member who shall be in arrears for payment of dues for two year or more may be suspended or expelled, provided that such member shall have been notified by registered mail at least thirty days before such final action is taken.

Section 3

A member suspended or expelled for non-payment of dues, who makes application for reinstatement, may be reinstated by a vote of a majority of the Executive Committee present and entitled to vote. The application for reinstatement must be accompanied by the amount of arrears for which the member was suspended or expelled. The Executive Committee may, by a majority vote, waive the payment of all or part of the arrears.

Section 4

All monies due the Rabbinical Council of America from a member shall be considered dues and be subject to all the provisions covering same.
